

Discover why some areas have growing, dynamic economies by hearing William Fruth's presentation:

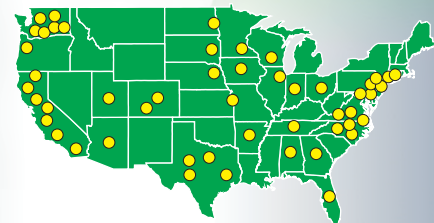

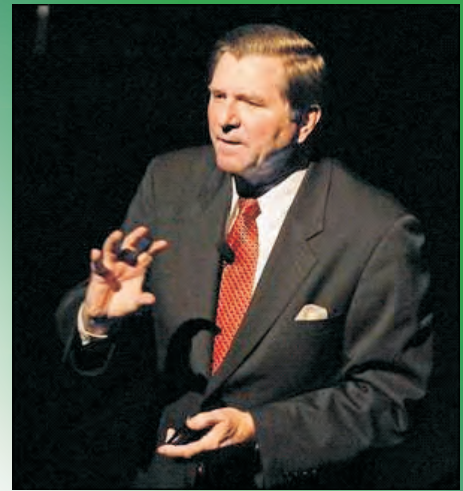

“Ten Traits of America’s Strongest Local Economies.”

Annually POLICOM ranks the 366 metropolitan and 576 micropolitan areas for economic strength.

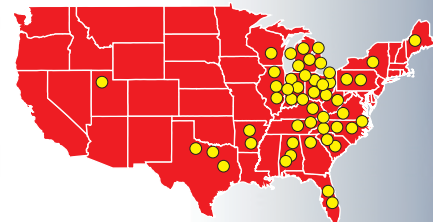

From a review of the strongest areas, ten economic development characteristics have been identified which can be emulated to improve your community's economy.

For your next annual meeting or special event, this presentation will motivate your community leaders to actively support an aggressive economic development program.
